

Can't all the Toys be Mine?

Writer: Nurşen ŞİRİN
(Child Development and Education Specialist)

Illustrations: Neşe İNAN

Advisor: Kudret Eren YAVUZ
(Child Psychologist)

2014

Print and Binding

Seçil Ofset

100. Yıl Matbaacılar Sitesi 4. Cad. No: 77

Bağcılar / İSTANBUL

Telephone: +90 (0212) 629 06 15

TİMAŞ KIDS

Timaş Basım Ticaret ve Sanayi AŞ

Alay Köşkü Cad. No: 5 Cağaloğlu, İstanbul - Turkey

Telephone: (0212)511 2424 (pbx) Fax: (0212) 512 4000

Timaspublishing.com - info@timaspublishing.com

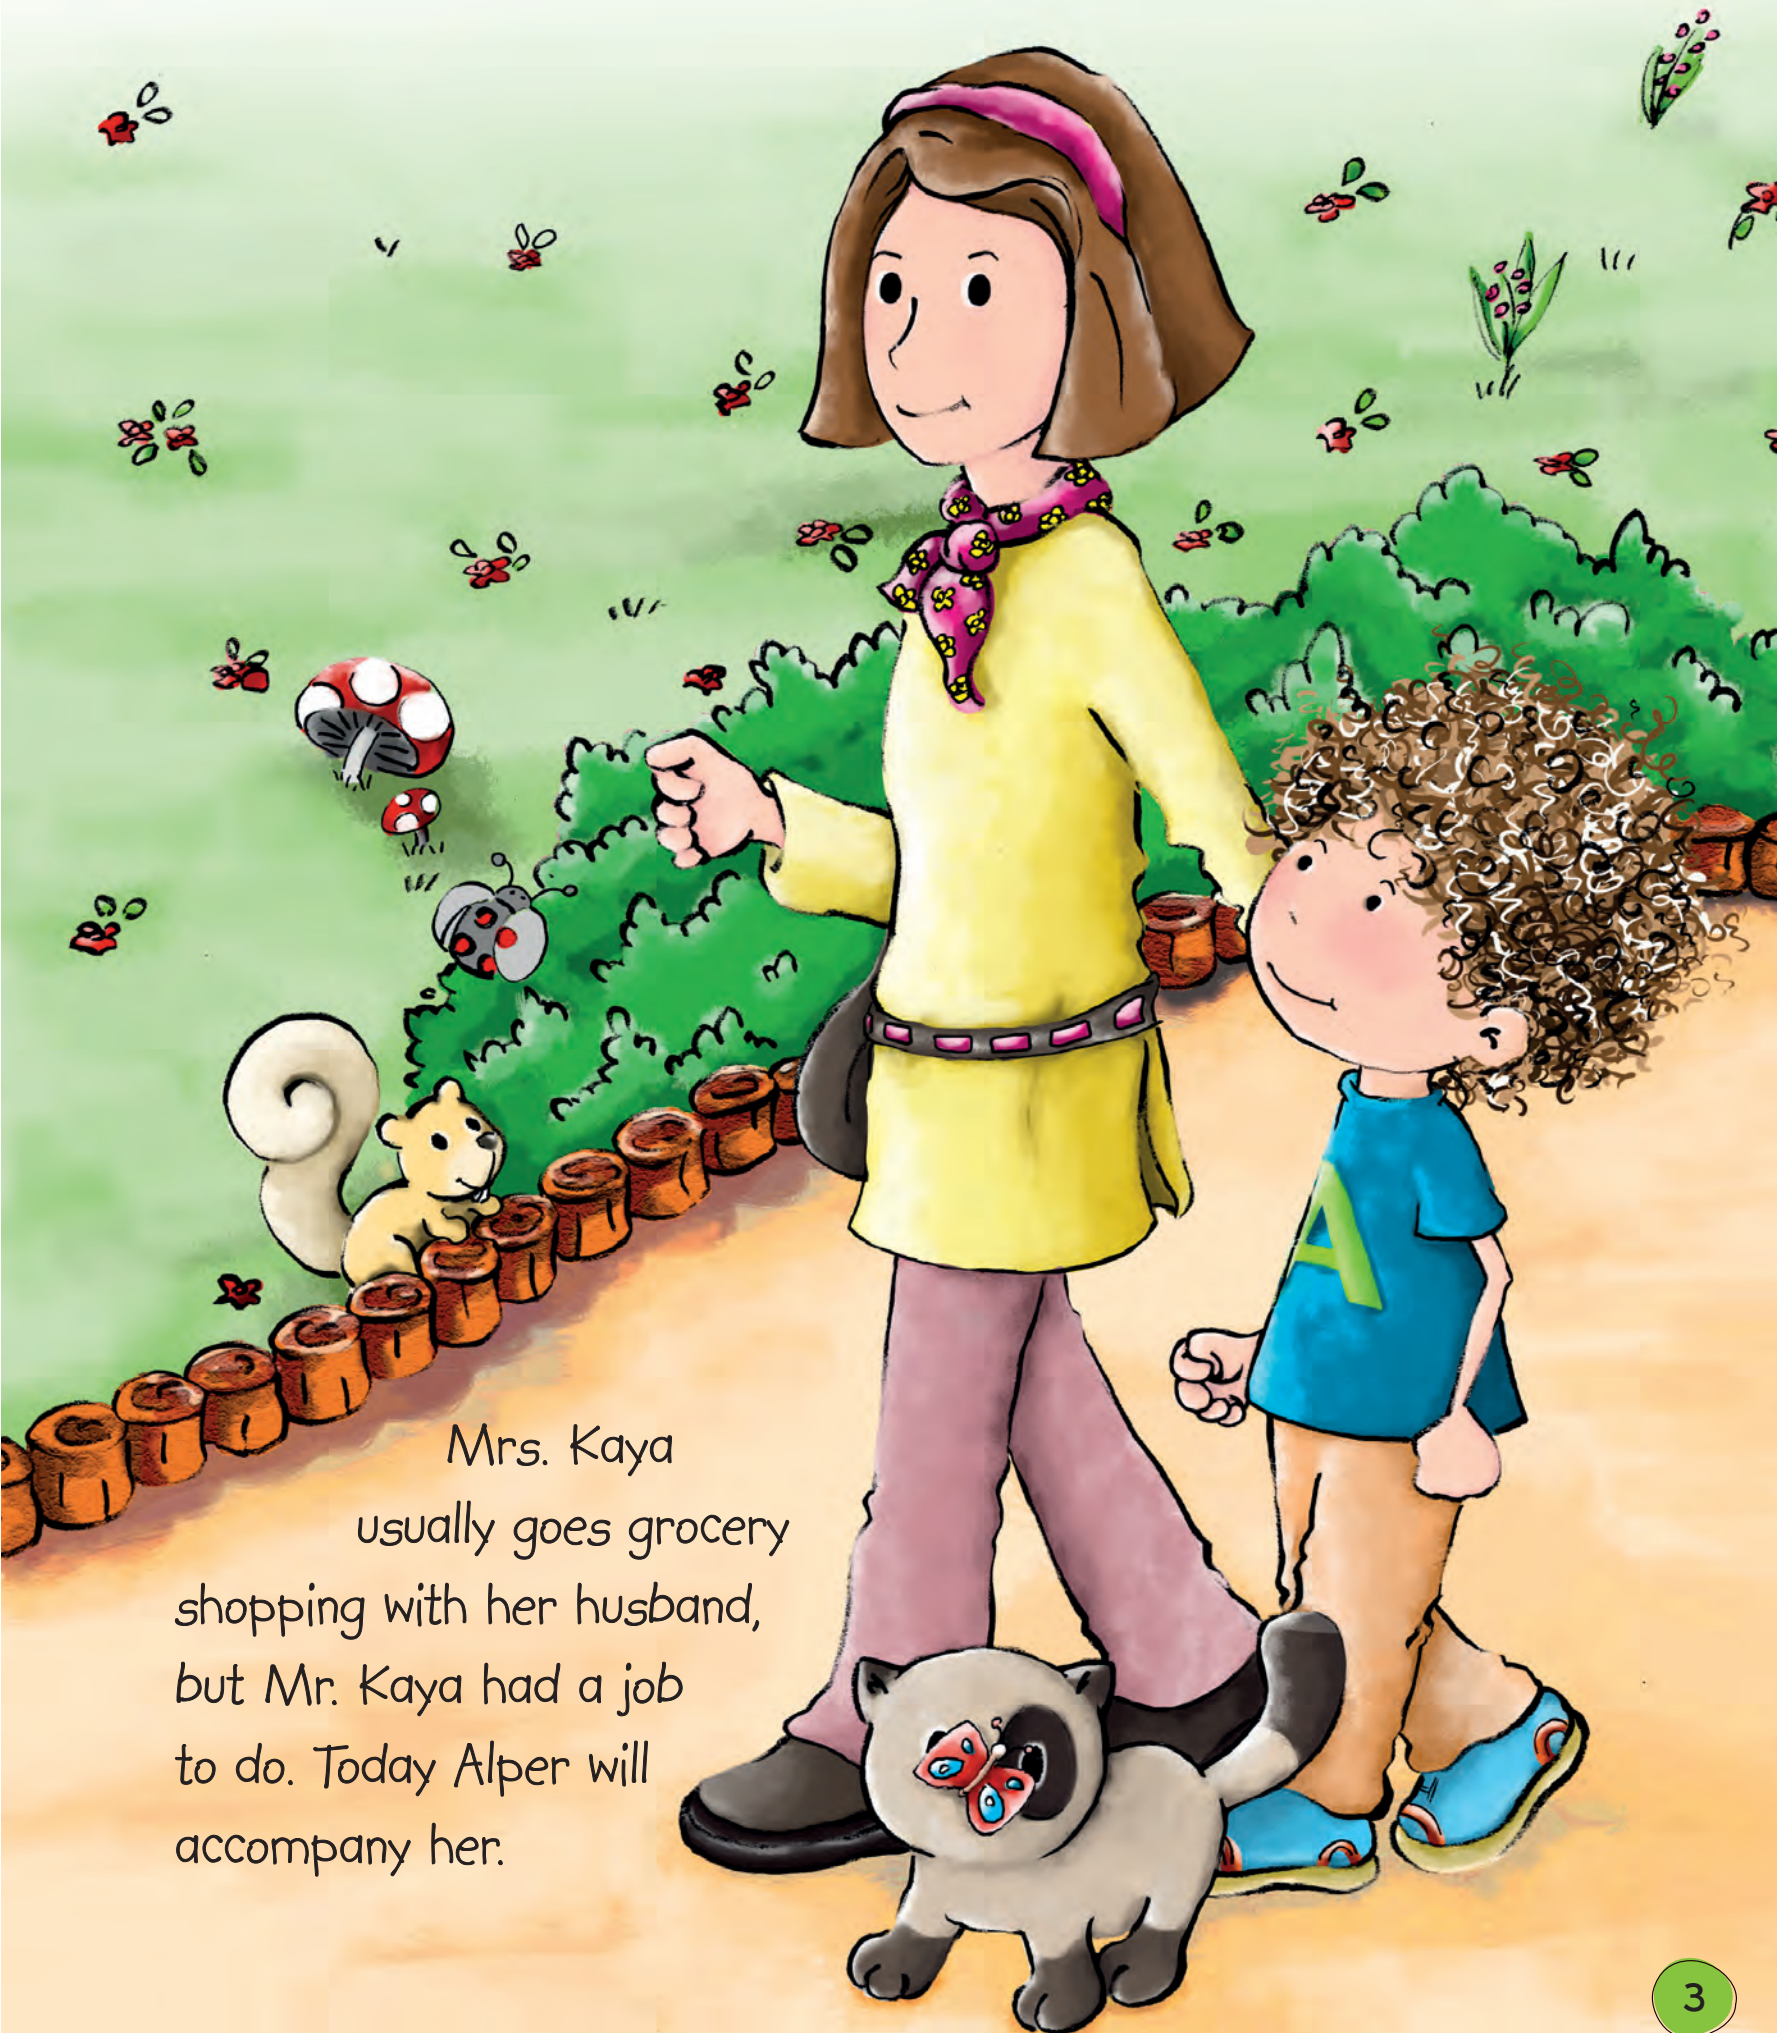

Alper (pronounced Alpair) is very curious, asks lots of questions, and according to him he has biiiiig problems. He'll show you how to solve your problems and have fun and go on adventures along the way.

What readers will learn from
"Can't all the toys be mine?"

- To understand the value of being the owner of something.
- To know the difference between different emotions.
- To check and control their emotions.
- To manage their relationships with others.
- To show tolerance.
- To grasp information about themselves and their families.
- To establish a relationship between cause and effect.
- To give effort.
- To have empathy.
- To express themselves verbally.
- To motivate themselves.
- To be compatible with their environments.
- To find solutions to problems.
- To observe the properties of an event.
- That everyone makes mistakes, and learning how to fix their mistakes.
- How to use english correctly.

Now it is time to meet Alper's mom, Mrs. Kaya.

Mrs. Kaya usually goes grocery shopping with her husband, but Mr. Kaya had a job to do. Today Alper will accompany her.

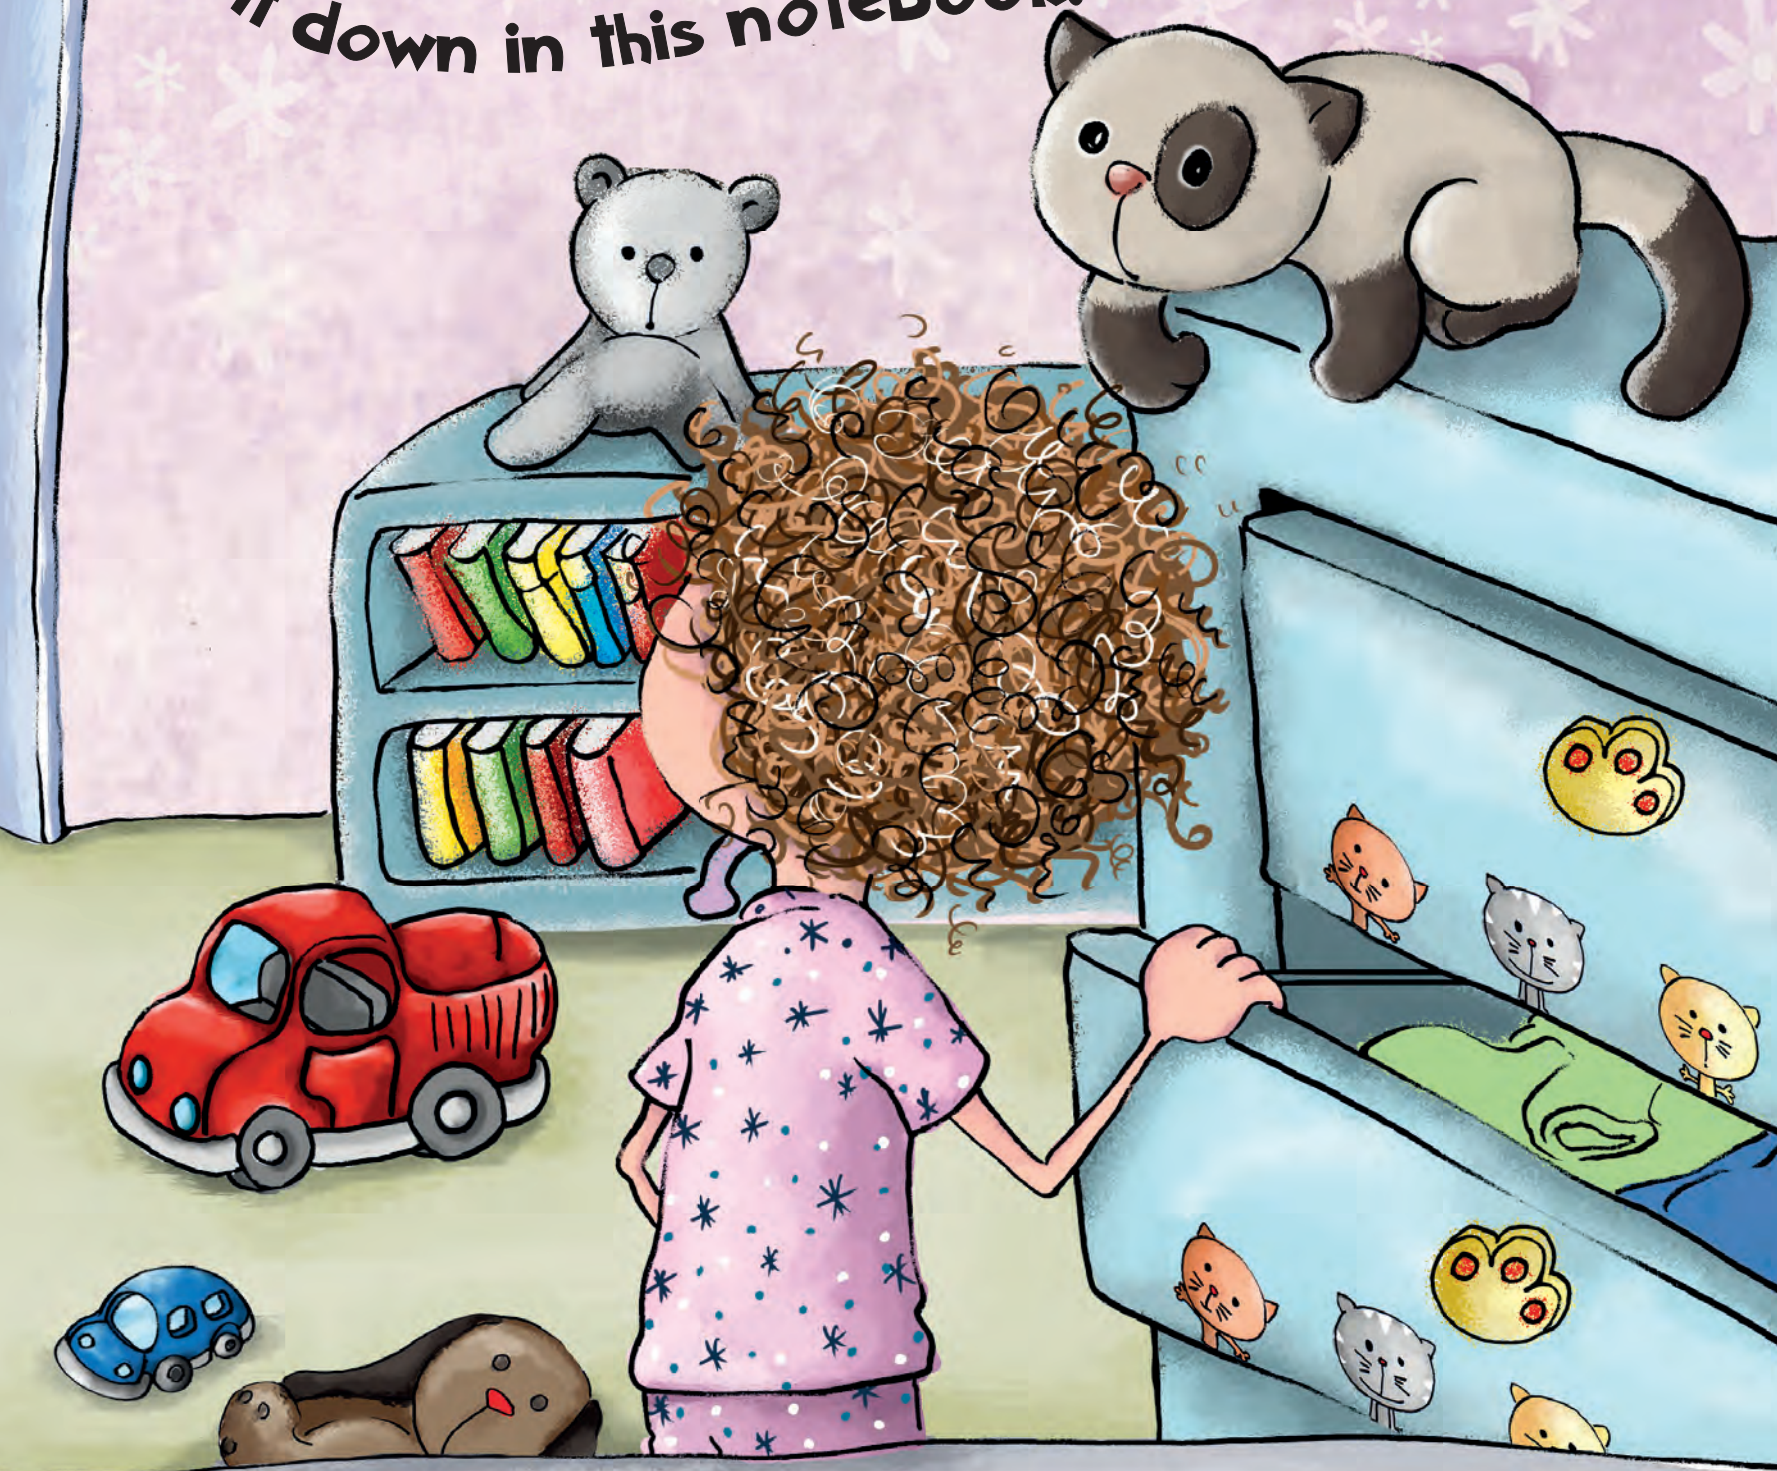

Alper woke up early. He got out of bed and went to his closet.

"Oh this or that or a purple-striped cat," he said as he began to wear the clothes that he had chosen.

"Knock knock knock." Someone knocked on the door.

Mrs. Kaya had a notebook in her hand.
"Alper my sweet, we are going to go shopping. If you need anything, write it down in this notebook."

Alper took his notebook and said,

"I'll draw the things I need!
That will be a fun thing to do."

He counted on his hand as he drew his pictures.

"Colored pencils, a pencil sharpener, clay, ice cream, chocolate, balloons, toy cars, a plane..."

His mother ended the list.

"Alright that's enough..."

She smiled as she said,

"Alper, we can only get things that are necessary. Lets take a look: colored pencils, a pencil sharpener, clay, chocolate and a balloon."

She said with a wink. Alper protested,

"but for me they are all necessary."

His mother shook her head,

"No they are not, Alper. There are many things on this list that we don't need."

Alper insisted while knowing he wouldn't be able to change his mother's mind. He didn't want to but he began revising his list.

